RE: Submissions in regard to the Maldon to Dombarton Rail Link Feasibility Study

Remarkably safety and community concerns are not considered part as part of the terms of Terms of Reference for the Maldon to Dombarton Rail Link Feasibility Study, yet the terms of reference refer to external costs and social impacts.

Factors such as Land use and environmental assessment are considered essential, but the word safety is not mentioned anywhere in the Terms of Reference for the Maldon to Dombarton Rail Link Feasibility Study. In this regard, surely social benefits and community interests such as the cost of loss of life, road closures, or benefit such as reduced road transport time due to reduced congestion (by getting this appropriate freight off the road) are costs and benefits warranting further economic assessment and inclusion?
